ALMA, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY AFTERNOON, DECEMBER 18, 1919

WHOLE NUMBER 2126

AMERICANISM ORDINANCE AIM

Proposed Ordinance Will Bar
Extreme Radicals From Operating Here.

COVERS ALL ASSOCIATIONS

Gives Police Supervision of Dance
Halls, Theatres, Clubs and Other Organizations.

Americanism is one of the big features of an ordinance, that was filed with the city clerk Tuesday evening, which provides for police regulation of clubs, public theatres, show-houses, dance halls, skating rinks, and other public places of amusement.

The ordinance in part provides that any club, organization, corporation, or association that shall be found advocating, publishing or teaching any law or doctrine that is un-American or is in defiance of the United States constitution; shall be required to forfeit its license and disband, and that its members shall thereafter be kept under strict police surveillance, and that each and every person a member of, or who shall be connected with such a club, organization, corporation or association, shall be punished by fine and imprisonment as provided in the ordinance.

The ordinance will also put a curb on some of the clubs, which at times spring up among the younger people, which once in a while have not the best of purposes behind them. The proposed ordinance provides that no club of persons under the age of twenty-one years shall hold any meetings without having a person in the capacity of chaperone. It further provides that such person must be approved by the police department or by the mayor.

The proposed ordinance also provides that no person under sixteen years of age shall attend any public dance hall or skating rink, unless accompanied by the parent, guardian or some other person acting in the capacity of chaperone.

The ordinance will carry a small license fee, and puts all such places under the supervision of the police department, as a regulative measure.

FINISH RUN

Alma Plant of Michigan Sugar Factory to Finish Slicing.

The Alma plant of the Michigan Sugar company will bring its 1919 campaign to a formal close tomorrow, when it is expected that the last slicing of beets for 1919 will be finished.

The Alma plant has had a good run this year and has cut a great tonnage of beets, but the exact number of course, will not be available until the last of the slicing has been completed.

There is a slight possibility that enough beets may be received yet to cause the plant to continue slicing a day or two longer, but this is not expected.

While the tonnage of beets sliced this year will probably exceed any in the history of the Alma plant, the amount of sugar will not hold up to the percentage of former years, because of the late rains, which caused the beets to start growing again and thus lower the sugar content.

PRODUCERS' MEETING

Milk Producers to Meet in Elwell Early in January.

The milk producers of this section of the county will meet in Elwell on the afternoon and evening of January 6, at which time a session of great interest to them will be held.

R. C. Reed, secretary of the Michigan Milk Producers Association will be present and will give an address on the milk question. Other prominent speakers will also be at the meeting.

Everyone, who is interested in the production of milk is invited to be present at the meeting, which is certain to be an instructive one for the producers.

BIG COMMUNITY DINNER

The Seville and Sumner Farmers' club and the Community Club of Elwell and vicinity, invite the Arcadia Farmers' club, the Arcadia Grange, Oddfellow lodge of Elwell and all Gleaners and Grangers in the vicinity to meet at Odd Fellows hall in Elwell on New Year's Day. A pot luck dinner will be served at noon. The merchants and business houses of Elwell will serve coffee. The dinner committee wish to announce that each family is to provide themselves with cups, plates, spoons and forks beside their contribution of food for the dinner.

A short program will be given in the afternoon. The Hon. A. B. Cook of Owasco will speak on Present Day Problems. Mr. Cook is a practical, up-to-date, progressive farmer. He has been State Senator and is now mentioned as a suitable man for the farmers to endorse as a national representative. Mr. Cook is a strong advocate of farmers' organizations and has a big message for all who hear him.

Valuable courses in agriculture are being offered at Central Normal, Mt. Pleasant, during the winter term opening January 5. These courses are especially practical and apply especially to this section.

The following courses will be offered during the winter term: Agricultural chemistry, farm crops and horticulture, soils and stock judging, feeds and feeding.

There will be offered other features during the winter term for special students taking this work. There are many other courses of value to one interested in farming, as arithmetic, manual training, English, history, etc. One is entitled to the use of the gymnasium in basketball and other games. Central Normal offers many advantages and especially adapts its work to serve Central Michigan.

CAMPAIN FOR THE CLUB IS CONTINUING

First of Year Will See Renewed
Activity in Campaign of Thousand Dollar Club.

During the past few weeks The Thousand Dollar club has been meeting with a good success, one far better than most had expected and it is estimated that there are now 275 memberships to the club.

It is believed that the campaign for this fund for home building in Alma will not be worked as hard during the next two weeks, as in the past few, because of the holidays, but after the first of the year it is certain to be renewed with a far greater activity than ever before by the committee, which still believes that one million dollars can be secured for homes in this city, through the securing of one thousand members for the club.

Some of the solicitors for the club have not turned in their reports as yet and it is still a difficult matter to determine just how many have enrolled in the progressive house building campaign that is being prepared to make Alma a larger and better city than it has ever been. It is not expected that exact figures will be available until the close of the year, when the books of the organization must be closed. At that time all subscriptions to the club by its members must be turned in, and it is believed that it will be then found that more have joined than are being counted on at the present time.

There is little question but that the campaign is proceeding in a manner that is highly satisfactory to the officials of the club, as there was no expectation at the start that one thousand people would immediately step up with subscriptions to the club, in spite of the safety which such an organization offers to the funds of its subscribers.

The committee expects that it will take some weeks, after the beginning of the year, to get the number of memberships that are being sought for the club, and is preparing to wage a real hot campaign in this city for memberships, and there is little question but that it will be continued until the desired number of memberships are forthcoming.

ENTERTAIN SOLDIERS

Woman's Relief Corps Will Entertain Former Service Men.

The Woman's Relief Corps of this city, will give an entertainment and supper to the returned soldiers of the city and members of the G. A. R. at the I. O. O. F. hall on Saturday evening, December 27.

A banquet will be served to the former service men, their wives and to the members of the city commission and clergymen of Alma at six o'clock, and this will be followed by a program of about an hour's duration.

It had been intended when plans for the affair were first made to extend an invitation that would include the parents of the service men, but as no hall in the city could be secured that would allow room for such a large gathering, this feature had to be given up.

The W. R. C. desires that every service man appear in uniform, if possible, but requests that none stay away if unable to appear in the Khaki.

GOOD WINDOW DISPLAY

As usual Nick Frantos, proprietor of the DeLuxe Candy company on South State street, is attracting the attention of Alma Christmas shoppers to his place with a highly artistic window display of Christmas sweets. It does not differ greatly from some of the displays that he has had in former years, although some new ideas have been worked into the window, notably, a house constructed of chocolate candy, which is neatly trimmed by other varieties of Christmas goodies.

Republic Motor Truck Co. Inc. Soon to Double Its Capacity

Will Spend Over Two Hundred Thousand Dollars in the Immediate Future to Make Changes That Will Give Greater Efficiency.

WILL RE-ROUTE THE WORK

Work on Changes to Be Made at Plants Has Already Been Started.

Tuesday evening at the meeting of the city commission, at which time objections were to have been heard relative to the closing of the west sixteen feet of Bridge street from the river, south to Michigan avenue, to make possible a sidetrack along the east side of Plant One of the Republic Motor Truck Company Inc., Arthur Davies and other officials of the company, who were present at the meeting told of the needs of the company for the sidetrack. This brought out the fact that the company expects to spend about $200,000.00 in the immediate future on its plant, with a view of doubling the production.

In opening his address Mr. Davies stated that the company was not able to produce more than half of the trucks that the sales department was able to sell, and that the company intends to make such changes at the plant as will make it possible to double the output.

It was stated that this would be done through rerouting the work, through additional buildings and floor space. He called attention to the fact that at the present time the company was unloading material in various parts of the city, which it is forced to haul to the plant, thirty-three trucks being constantly employed in this work. This made it cost nearly twice as much to handle the material as to build the trucks, he stated.

He then pointed out the new plans of the company, included in which is the using of the east building of plant one as a storeroom. By use of the sidetrack it would be possible to unload the material in this building at a nominal expense. It was stated that the court just to the west of this structure was to be covered over with a steel truss roof, and that the heavier parts would be routed across this court from the storeroom, and that the minor or sub-assembly work would be done in this court, before the heavier material moved to the west into the assembly room, making possible this work at a minimum expense.

It was also stated that the plans have in view the taking out of some of the older, out of date machinery in the machine shop, which is to be replaced with modern machinery, capable of faster work.

It was also stated that the radiator and fender department, now in plant four, as the old hay press building is known, would be moved to the steel-truss covered court. This will make possible the moving of the work in plant two to plant four.

Plant two will then be used for the service department, which has become greatly overcrowded in its quarters in plant one. Service being one of the big factors in such industries, the great need of a service department, well arranged down to the finest details, was easily made plain.

Mr. Davies also stated that the company was installing twelve testing machines, at a cost of $2,000.00 to take care of the testing of the trucks at the plant and that few of them would be on the road, once the testing machines were installed.

It was estimated that the proposition of making the suggested changes and re-routing the work in the factory to secure the highest degree of efficiency, would cost about $200,000.00, which makes it plain that officials of the company are certain that a great saving can be effected, as well as to allow additional room so that the production at the plant may be doubled.

Doubling the production of the concern, without a question will soon mean a greater number of employees at the truck factory, and will be a means of making the entire community more prosperous, and without a question will be a public benefit to Alma.

There is little question but that the Republic will go ahead on the present outlined plans, regardless of whether or not the sidetrack is made available for its use, but the elimination of a large number of heavily loaded trucks in congested parts of the city, which might be a source of danger, for a sidetrack fenced off from the street with a neat, attractive fence, would seem to indicate that the latter would be a public benefit.

THRIFT WEEK

National Thrift Week Will Come in January This Year.

National Thrift week will begin this year on Saturday, January 17, and during the following seven days efforts will be bent upon the promotion of matters of vital interest in American life.

The United States Government will take its part in National Thrift week this year, with a continuation of its campaign for systematic saving and investment by the people of the country, as evidenced by the plans of the treasury department, which are being formulated by William Mather Lewis, director of the savings division.

The program for National Thrift Week follows:

Saturday, January 17, National Thrift Day, when a campaign will be started for systematic saving, during which the government will urge the saving through treasury certificates, war savings stamps, and such securities.

Thrift Sunday will be January 18, at which time sermons will be given in all pulpits on the relation of economic life to religious well-being, and the need of sharing with others.

Monday, January 19, will be National Life Insurance day, on which emphasis will be laid on the need of protecting one's family with life insurance.

Own-Your-Own-Home Day, Tuesday, January 20, is named as the time when it is to be shown how desirable it is for one to own his own home.

Make-A-Will Day, Wednesday, January 21, is named as a day to urge men to make wills, impressing upon them the necessity of providing for the future.

Thrift-in-Industry Day is Thursday, January 22, named for the emphasizing of thrift in industry and the economic value of co-operation between capital and labor.

Family Budget Day is Friday, January 23, while the following day, Saturday, January 24, is Pay-Your-Bills day.

The Genesta theatre, which since it was sold to R. J. McLaughlin, proprietor of the Victory theatre of St. Johns, has been undergoing numerous repairs and alterations, as well as being entirely re-decorated, was re-opened today under the name of the Regent theatre.

No pains have been spared to make the Regent a moving picture house in keeping with the city in which it is located, and those who attend the show house are certain to be very agreeably surprised at the great changes that it has undergone, all of which are greatly for the betterment of the place.

If the improvement shown in the theatre is to speak for the ability of Mr. McLaughlin, as a theatre manager, success is certain to come to him at the Regent.

HEAR PETITION

Defendant Has Filed Petition Asking
Delay in City's Suit.

A. R. Purcell, against whom the city of Alma started suit for $25,000.00, as damages for the failure to properly complete his well contract with this community, has, through his attorney, filed a petition in court, asking for a continuance of the case on the ground that an important witness for the defendant cannot be brought in, if the case is tried at this time.

It is understood that the motion for the continuance in the case will be heard by Judge E. J. Moinet on Friday, and it is the intention of the city officials, through City Attorney James G. Kress to fight against the continuance of the case, that the case may be brought to trial and to a speedy conclusion, that the city may take some action in regard to its well water system, which is being held up pending the case.

Those who have been following the matter closely, hardly expect that the motion for a continuance will be allowed in the case, and that it will come up for trial in the very near future.

Following an investigation in Gratiot last week the state constabulary swooped down on numerous places in the county that were operating slot machines, punch boards, etc., and when the roundup had been completed twenty-two arrests had been made.

The city of Alma was visited along with other places in the county, as were Breckenridge, Pompeii and Brie, but only in these communities did the constabulary fail to find violations of the law that would warrant arrests.

The slot machines taken in the raid were taken to Ithaca where the axe was used on them, and it is certain that they will be operated no more. Considerable candy, etc., as prizes on punch boards was confiscated, and taken to Ithaca, and most of it will find its way to the Gratiot county farm, where it will aid in making a merry Christmas for the inmates.

Those arrested were taken before Justice Myers of Ithaca where the arrested in the raid were: Henry Randolph of St. Louis, Lafayette Price of Sumner, F. L.
